Jordan High School

The LBUSD Measure K school bond program was approved by voters in 2008 to build, renovate and improve aging schools in the Long Beach Unified School District. The $1.2 billion made available by Measure K has been budgeted to address the most critical and priority building needs of our schools.

The single largest Measure K project underway is the rebuilding of Jordan High School. We have completed the cafeteria/kitchen and first four classroom buildings, which opened after the holiday break earlier this month. Many additional improvements are planned for 2017 and beyond, including a new auditorium, band building and more classroom buildings.

The school district is hosting an informational meeting to share what is being planned so that everyone will be aware of possible traffic/parking impacts, as well as plans to minimize temporary inconveniences relating to noise and dust.

We encourage interested parties to attend this meeting as questions and concerns will be addressed at this time.
